

Crater Lake Camp Naivasha is situated in a Private Game Sanctuary on "Ndabibi Estate" – the Masai word for Clover, the land used to be owned by Gilbert Colville and his wife, Diana (later to become Lady Delamere) whose life has been made famous through books and films about Kenya in the 1930's.

Some guests say they can still feel her presence as she rides her favorite horse down to the lake Naivasha. Crater Lake Camp Naivasha is run by Merica Group of Hotels, who's superb personality and perfect understanding of Crater Lake's needs, make a guests stay at the lake an unbelievable experience.

Crater Lake Camp Naivasha is magical escape less than 2 hour's drive from Nairobi; the Crater Lake tented camp is set inside a bush at a private sanctuary. It is situated at 6,300 feet at the bottom of an extinct volcano on the shores of the green soda lake.

Treat yourself by taking a magical safari in Kenya to a quiet and tranquil place, a secret holiday destination known to just a few. Hidden on the shores of a deep volcanic lake, Crater Lake Tented Camp is one of the most peaceful, memorable back-to-nature experiences you will ever have.