

Loldia House is located on the northwest shore of Lake Naivasha in the Rift Valley of southwest Kenya. This classic colonial bungalow has been beautifully restored, with an especially lovely lounge with sofas around an open fire.

Guest accommodation is in nine rooms, both in the main building and in cottages amongst the gorgeous grounds, which stretch down to the lakeshore. A very polished, intimate and authentic place to stay, one of the very best options on the lake and a great place to rest up for a couple of nights before heading out on safari. www.crocodileracers.com
