

Shompole Lodge is situated on the side of the Nguruman escarpment, overlooking the stunning expanse of the Great Rift Valley, Kenya and is positioned ideally to make the most of both an incredible view and the cool breeze. Shompole Lodge is located in southern Kenya on the Tanzanian border near soda Lakes Natron and Magadi.

Shompole Lodge is located on the edge of the Nguruman Escarpment overlooking the Great Rift Valley, Kenya. Shompole Lodge in the Great Rift Valley, Kenya is 120km (74.5 miles) south of Nairobi on a 35 000 acre Conservancy, surrounded by 140 000 acres of Shompole Group Ranch which provides a dispersal area for wildlife and a buffer zone.

The area of Shompole Lodge in the Great Rift Valley, Kenya is home to many species of animal and bird life and includes one of the most ecologically diverse areas in Africa.

Shompole Lodge

is situated in an arid region in the Great Rift Valley, Kenya. October and November tend to be the warmest times of the year while April and May is usually the wettest time.

Because it tends to be warm during the middle of the day, activities normally take place during the mornings and evenings, while the middle of the day is spent relaxing by the pool or in the shade of the rooms.

Shompole Lodge offers privacy, comfort and relaxation in mind, each room consists of a cool-pool and informal sitting areas, a bathroom with a view and a specially-designed tent which includes vast windows and a high canopied roof. Shompole Lodge consists of 6 stylishly minimalist rooms, 4 doubles and 2 twin rooms, and 2 suites.

All rooms at Shompole Lodge are en-suite with private cool-pool and lounge. The rooms have an open-plan design to take advantage of the breeze as it can become very hot in this area.

The main lounge and dining area consists of a high thatch roof overlooking Mount Shompole and the Rift Valley. Guests can take their meals in the privacy of their tent, the main pool or in the bush.