The first floor bedroom at Lamu Jasmine house the top of the stairs is a twin room as and shares the bathroom with shower and bathtub with the second double bedroom which also has couches suitable as kid's beds.

This room with its raised walls, louvered windows and a high English ceiling supports a rooftop terrace that is accessed by a bridge from the master bedroom stairs. Perfect for sun downers!

The annex wing has two bedrooms. The downstairs bedroom, accommodates a double bed and has a huge bathroom and separate w/c. The kitchen at Jasmine house Lamu is plastered in the new style with new work surfaces, recessed alcoves, niches and windows opened up for light and ventilation. In 2005 it was refitted with an additional gas and electric oven, two new fridges in addition to the existing fridge which has been kept for drinks in the pool garden) a deep fat fryer and all new appliances, pots, pans and utensils.

Crockery, cutlery and glassware have been replaced to a high standard for ten people with extra in case of guests and there are also unbreakable plates and picnic ware for kids, outings and pool use.

In its new configuration Jasmine House Lamu can accommodate ten adults in one King, three Double and two twin beds, and in addition there are extra mosquito nets, pillows and sheets to allow for kids to sleep on the cushioned cement couches of the master, first floor and upper annex bedrooms and the pool garden barazza, though we would not recommend exceeding ten adults and four children purely due to overcrowding and bathroom facilities.

The sitting room has been opened up and adjoins a new terrace area next to the dining room which combines a comfortable cushioned area for breakfast and drinks. New soft furnishings throughout are of simple cotton whites and colors that complement the 'Swahili-Marog' mood of the house. All mattresses are new and pillows replaced with a choice of polyester or duck down. The bed linen is 200 thread per inch Egyptian cotton percale.
