

Cottar's 1920's Safari Camp is situated in an extensive and exclusive concession between the Masai Mara, Serengeti and Loliondo reserves (Olderkesi Group Ranch, South East Masai Mara). This area has been untouched by any kind of tourism or development and offers the discerning client a guarantee of privacy. Most importantly, while the Mara has a reputation of being over congested with mass tourism, Cottar's Safari Camp has kept the secret of the area for years - no hot air balloons flying overhead, no minibuses buzzing around, no nearby lodges or low flying aircraft to disturb your special moments.

The Cottar Safari tradition began in 1919. Nearly 90 years on, it still continues to provide an unparalleled safari experience to discerning clients in Africa. Extending an era of luxury and quality, Cottar's Camp return to the original spirit and essence of 'safari', reminiscent of a golden era – an era of romance, professional guiding, adventure and elegance. Cottar's Camp is situated in the Masai Mara; in an untouched exclusive concession bordering the Serengeti and Loliondo Reserves, the area guarantees privacy and an abundance of wildlife. Cottar's Camp accommodates up to 22 guests in authentic white canvas tents, which are spacious and luxuriously furnished. They incorporate original safari antiques from the '20's, private en suite dressing room and bathrooms, main bedrooms and verandas.
